THE SANDWICH PROJECT

PB&J Sandwich Making 101

Buy the latest expiration date you can, at least 7 days after the date you'll be dropping off your sandwiches.
When making sandwiches, be sure to tie hair back, wash your hands thoroughly with soap and water, and wear gloves.

Please use high-quality ingredients. Think about what you would serve your own family.
Use jelly only — no jam, preserves, or fruit spread.
Peanut butter only. No alternative nut butters, please.

Disposable plastic spatulas make spreading easier and keep things mess-free. Find a link at www.thesandwichproject.org on our Make Sandwiches page.
Use a separate spatulas for peanut butter and jelly.

Step 1

Wipe down countertops/tables. Tie hair back and wash hands before laying out bread—no ends/heels. Plastic tablecloths make for easy cleanup when you're done.

Step 2

Neatly spread 1½ tablespoons of peanut butter on each slice of bread.

Step 3

Spread 1.5 teaspoons of jelly in the center of every other slice of bread. Keep jelly away from edges of bread for neat sandwiches.

Step 4

Combine one peanut butter & jelly slice with one peanut butter only slice to create one complete sandwich. Press slices together gently. DO NOT cut sandwiches.

Step 5

Place each sandwich in an individual zip-lock sandwich bag. Press out excess air. Seal tightly.

Step 6

Neatly place the zip-locked sandwiches into the loaf bag, press out excess air, and secure well with a twist tie—no knots or bands.
